Installation

Locate the existing kick-over spring to be replaced. This will be on the underside of the mast when it is in the horizontal position. Make note or take pictures of existing kick-over spring position and hardware for reference when installing the new one. Remove old kick-over spring by loosening hardware attaching it to the mast and removing. Install new kick-over spring in it's place in the same manner the old one was installed. Be sure mounting hardware is properly tightened and kick-over spring is secure before raising mast again.
